

DIRECTOR OF NURSING

Queens Manor, a 61-bed long-term care facility located in Liverpool, Nova Scotia, is seeking an innovative and enthusiastic full-time RN to join its leadership team. Yes, you are a registered nurse, but you are also a dynamic and motivated leader who engages your resident care team in finding solutions to the many challenges facing them. You will lead a team who clearly want to make a difference to the lives of its residents. An integral part of the senior leadership team, you will work closely with and be accountable to an Executive Director passionate about change and committed to achieving the Board's vision where the facility is recognized as the residence of choice and the employer of choice. The challenges are many, but the rewards will be as well.

Responsibilities

Accountable for the day-to-day administrative operations of the clinical services team, you will ensure harmonious relationships with residents, family members and staff, ensuring the integrity of the nursing program as well as fiscal accountability.

Qualifications

- Degree/Diploma from an accredited school of nursing and currently licensed, or able to attain, a license to practice in the province of Nova Scotia.
- Experience in managing, directing and inspiring others

Assets

- Experience in the long-term care environment.
- Knowledge of collective agreements, human resources best practices and the management of unionized staff.

About Liverpool, Nova Scotia

For more information on our lovely community, situated on the south shore of Nova Scotia, check out the links below:

<http://doctors-wanted.ca/>

<http://www.retiretoliverpool.com/>

<http://www.regionofqueens.com/>

To apply:

To explore this opportunity further, please send your resume to the Executive Director, Sandi L. Humphrey, at administrator@queensmanor.ca. All applications will be handled with the strictest of confidence.